

SIX MONTHS AND $1,000
FINE FOR MITCHELL

Farcical Justice in the Case of Arch Land
Grafter.

DEPRIVED OF
HIS OFFICE

One Reason for Not Im-posting Extreme Penalty Says Court.

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)
PORTLAND, Ore., July 25.—
Senator Mitchell was sentenced to six months' imprisonment in the county jail and a fine of $1, 000 for participation in the land frauds, by Federal Judge Dehaven.
The courtroom was crowded.
Mitchell was present, showing plainly the strain of the worry and care. Senator Thurston, attorney for the defendant, protested against the sentence on the ground that the constitution provided immunity from arrest for United States senators. A bill of exceptions was also filed.
Execution will be stayed until the court examines the bill.
The defendant also made a motion for a writ of error and filed bonds of $2,000 pending an appeal to the supreme court.
The court stated it had not imposed the full penalty owing to the fact that the defendant would be deprived of all right to hold public office, as a part of the punishment.

NARROWLY ESCAPE DROWNING

While fishing in the Pettibone park lagoon this afternoon a boat containing Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ryan and another couple was capsized and all came near drowning.
Owing to the lateness of the hour little could be learned of the details of the accident, but according to report the tipover was caused by a friendly scuffle between the men. The guilty of any crime when he opened the door of his place of business and fired a revolver shot in the direction of a crowd of boys who were tormenting him by singing the coon song

"Alexander" and making other disturbance noises.
The verdict, which was agreed upon at eight o'clock last night, was sealed and read at the opening of court this morning. It created no surprise in the court room, nearly everyone expecting that the result would be favorable for the defendant.

District Attorney Bosshard Tells of Bad Character of Man Who Stole Hamilton's Horse.

A district attorney taking the witness stand to testify against the man whom he is trying to convict was the somewhat unusual spectacle presented in the circuit court this morning, when District Attorney Bosshard was sworn in the case of the state against William Aird, alleged horse thief, and told the court of being present when Aird was sentenced to one year at Waupun for embezzlement, by Judge
Brindley, in the spring of 1904.
Aird was employed by the West Salem Creamery association in hauling cream and was arrested on the charge of misappropriating $42.50. He pleaded guilty in county court and served nine months at Waupun, being liberated a short time before the alleged horse stealing affair occurred.
Aird is charged with renting a horse and buggy from E. G. Hamilton and a day or two later disposing of the horse at Genoa for the nominal sum of one dollar. He was arrested by

WIFE'S INSANITY
RETURNS

Hohnloser Brought Her Home, Now Fears to Enter Own Abode

Because he went to Mendota and brought his wife home three months after she had been committed to the institution for treatment, Gottlieb Hohnloser must take her back to the institution, now that she has had a relapse.
Hohnloser says he hasn't money enough to make the trip, and the county authorities have a dilemma to solve.

Mrs. Hohnloser, who lives with her husband at 1419 South Eighth street, was committed to the asylum about six months ago. Three months later Hohnloser received word that his wife was much improved and that she might come home within a short time. Instead of waiting until she was formally released and brought home by the sheriff Mr. Hohnloser made a special trip to Mendota immediately and after a conference with the hospital authorities in which he agreed to watch his wife, secured her release from the institution and returned home with her.

This was three months ago. Today Hohnloser reported to the county authorities that he had been living a terrible existence for several weeks past on account of a return of his wife's malady, and he was almost afraid to go home at night when his day's work as a street laborer was over. Hohnloser looked as if he hadn't slept for a few weeks, when he told his story in the county judge's office this morning. He said he had submitted to a number of beatings at the hands of his wife during the past few days and averred that she talked and howled constantly, and drank much whiskey, which she managed to secure in some manner, all of which did not help matters any.

Under the law Hohnloser has to take his wife back to the asylum because he brought her home and she became insane again within the statutory period of two years during which a person is liable to return to an asylum after having been released. The county authorities will take up the matter with the state board of control.

GRAND CROSSINGITSE READY TO KICK ON YARDS

It is said that a remonstrance is soon to be circulated among the citizens in the vicinity of Grand Crossing against the installation of stock and feeding yards by the Milwaukee road.

It is understood, however, that these people who intend to circulate the remonstrance have a wrong idea of the size and location of it and some of them think that the stock will run all over all of the land south of the Milwaukee tracks and west of the Indian hill, whereas the company intends to erect only a small yard in the corner formed by the meeting of the Northwestern and Milwaukee tracks and about 800 feet wide.

This locates it several blocks away from the nearest house and it will not cause any trouble whatever.

Nine carloads of material for building the yards has already been unloaded at the site and work will be started at once.

Cattle will simply be taken out at this place and fed, watered, and allowed to rest up a few hours, and will then be reloaded and shipped on.

Funeral of Mar- tin Masrud

The funeral of the late Martin Masrud of Avon street will be held tomorrow from the Charles street Lutheran church, Rev. E. O. Vik officiating, and N. O. Holberg in charge.

State Supports 4,200 Chronic Insane

MADISON, Wis., July 25.—The state board of control went to Racine today to inspect the new county insane asylum as to whether it complies in all respects with the statutory provisions governing such institutions. If the building is approved it will be put into commission as soon as possible. It cost $125,000 and has a capacity of 200 inmates. It is the thirty-first county asylum for the insane to be erected in Wisconsin. The state has a chronic insane population of 4,200.

ATHLETICS CHAMPIONS OF THIS PART OF NORTHWEST

The Athletics have already practically won the title to the championship of Western Wisconsin and Southern Minnesota amateur baseball teams for the season of 1905, by defeating Winona for the second time Sunday afternoon in that city, by a score of 12 to 14. The La Crosse team has not been defeated this season.

La Crosse had to work for this last victory, however, and it was not until the last man was called that they could claim the laurels as at the end of the eighth inning the score was 11 to 12 in favor of Winona.

The first inning was very poor and had it not turned for the better the total score would have been in the forties or fifties. La Crosse was first to bat and succeeded in getting six men around the diamond. As a result of Winona's inning seven scores were credited the local team.

The remainder of the game was more interesting as La Crosse received five big Os as a result of the Winona pitcher's work who got into the game after the first inning and although there were not any strike outs he had good backing in the field. While the Winonas were doing this work, they succeeded in getting three more scores and in the seventh inning two were made, giving them a total of twelve.

In the last three innings the La Crosse team ran in eight scores, giving them the victory which until the ninth inning had been Winona's.

The result of the game by innings was as follows:

La Crosse 6 0 0 0 0 0 3 2 3—14
Winona 7 1 0 1 1 0 2 0 0—12

FIFTEEN FISHERMEN CAPTURED BY A GAME WARDEN

JANESVILLE, Wis., July 25.—Peter Drafa, recently reappointed game warden, made his first arrest for unlawful fishing by set lines just outside the city limits early yesterday morning. Fifteen fishermen were taken at one time, three others escaping in the early light. Drafa selected one from each party, and they were taken to court and fined $25 and costs, Drafa loaning one of the prisoners $3 to make up the needed amount. Drafa was reappointed last Thursday, a fact which was not known to the local fishermen, and the wholesale capture was easily made. Paul Blum, E. D. Groff and Charles Meckel were the three arrested. Tom Sullivan and Fred Sullivan and their crews escaped, but the boats were captured.

BISHOP SCHWEBACH AIDS IN CONSECRATION TODAY

La Crosse Bishop Assisted by Chaplains, Acts as Assistant Consecrator When Schinner is Made Bishop.

In the consecration of Rev. A. F. Schinner to the bishopric of Superior diocese at Milwaukee this morning Rt. Rev. Bishop James Schwebach of this city acted as assistant consecrator, assisted by his chaplains, the Rev. Bernard Traudt, secretary to archbishop of the archdiocese of Milwaukee, and the Rev. Bolemay Goral of St. Francis' seminary.

The highest honors within the gift of the Catholic church marked the consecration of the Rev. A. F. Schinner of Superior of the newly created diocese of Superior. When he gave his vows at St. John's cathedral this morning the highest dignitaries of the church this side of Rome were represented among the witnesses and His Excellency, the Most Rev. Dionysius Falcioni, of Washington, D. C., apostolic delegate to America, received his vows, conducted his examination, and blessed to their use and conferred upon him the emblem of his new dignity.

Besides the apostolic delegate three archbishops, eight bishops, five vicars general, several secretaries and chancellors, and between 300 and 400 Catholic priests from this and other states were among the witnesses. In the pews not occupied by the visiting clergy relatives of the bishop-elect, sisters of the various orders connected with the Catholic church, and representatives from the various Catholic parishes of the city were interested spectators of the impressive ceremony, which took place with great pomp before the flower banked and candle lighted altars.

The procession of clergy which entered the cathedral just preceding the consecration service was the most imposing one of its kind ever seen in Milwaukee, for every grade of promotion in the gift of the church was represented in its lines. The altar boys, in whom the future priesthood of the church is seen, the priests in their cassocks, surplices, and birettas, the clergymen of higher office, and, finally, the pope's delegate in this country, each in the rich robes belonging to his office, formed a procession of more than ordinary significance and interest.

Defective Curbing to be Replaced.

The defective curbing on the State street paving job will be relaid by the contractors and there will be no suit instituted by property owners.

At a meeting of the special street improvement committee yesterday afternoon everything was satisfactorily adjusted and those present representing the aggrieved property owners seemed entirely satisfied with the promises that were made.

The facts in the case are that Contractor Bert Meade several weeks ago pronounced a strip of 300 feet of curbing poor and engaged a cement contractor to relaid it before the property owners had uttered a word of complaint. City officials have been satisfied all along that the work would be done properly eventually.

TREMPEALEAU WAK- ING FROM HALF CENTURY DOZE

VILLAGE A MANU- FACTURING TOWN

From a sleepy little village nestled in a peaceful spot at the foot of the south slope of a big hill the village of Trempealeau is being converted into a manufacturing town, and the residents are coming out of their half century of doze.

Two new factories for the village is the result of the first efforts of the business men to make a thriving town out of the little village and together they will give employment to a large number of people at periods during the year.

The L. A. Wakefield Manufacturing company of West Salem will move their factory there this week having been tendered a bonus of $500 from the business men. The company manufactures harness saddlery, nets and well known Wakefield patent traces. They have bought the L. D. Ford building on Main street which they will remodel in first class shape to suit their trade.

BOOMFASTON SAND BAR IN RIVER.

One of the booms at West Newton which was being brought to Winona last week lodged on a sand bar on one of the islands a short distance above that city. The boom is four feet wide and three hundred feet long and it is understood that it is to be cut in three pieces of one hundred feet each and placed side by side making a floating dock twelve feet wide and one hundred feet long. A new floor is to be put over the entire dock. It is very difficult to handle in the water on account of it being so narrow and long. A small skiff was first used towing the boom down stream. The steamer Fountain City tried to pull it off the sand bar Saturday but failed. The water is going down and if it is left there long it will be more difficult to get loose.

POLITICS AND ARCHITECTURE.

If there is any hope for a populous and active La Crosse of the future, we should be preparing for it now. We should conform our efforts to the probable demands of tomorrow as well as to the actual necessities of today. We should be far-seeing, enterprising and optimistic. Our conduct of public affairs today should be surrounded by a spirit of broad liberality that does not hesitate to spend a dollar on posterity.

We are planning a new school. We have made some mistakes in relation thereto that have confused the situation, and following this state of affairs there have been permitted to creep into the discussion considerations that should be entirely foreign to the subject such as political expedience, personal resentment, etc.

As a result of these alien considerations, we are in a good way not to have the school. It has been found necessary to ask the city for $30,000 in excess of what was originally provided, under circumstances that have embarrassed the school board and alienated some hitherto warm supporters of the building as planned.

We believe it is a fact that a majority of the city council for one reason or another is against allowing this increase in cost, and unless there comes a radical change of sentiment in the short period remaining before final action is taken there will be no such high school as the wisdom of far-seeing citizens has advised. We will have a school for the day and hour, but no school for this day twenty years hence.

We would advise democrats to lay aside all personal feeling and party strategy while considering this matter. You have had the courage to conceive this splendid building that, erected, will be a monument to the democratic administration of these years; you have pursued the plans almost to their execution; you have dealt with this subject in the broad and intelligent way that accords with the policy of progress which marked the beginning of democratic power and has been an unceasing accompaniment of democratic administration.

If we defeat this school because this ward or that community will not vote for us next year; if we let considerations of immediate and trivial results crowd out the greater consequences that the future holds, we will be recreant to duty and in the long run we will have lost the very point for which we made so great a sacrifice—we will have lost our party prestige. Politically, this affair is going to be used against us in any event; if it is Fate's decree that we be defeated in election is it better to say "we built the high school and lost the election," or "we didn't build the high school and lost the election?"

In a later day, if we make a mistake now, men who are of this city council will look back and regret that this most important question was not decided strictly upon its merits. Twenty years from now whether you were re-elected in 1907 will appear of small concern compared with how you stood on this project. In the last national election, seizing the opportune moment, the national republican party stole the issues of the democrats and rode on them to the victory that by long adherence the democrats had so well won. Shall we in La Crosse let the republicans become possessed of our chariot, "Progress," in which to ride to victory?

This is not a matter of politics, but if we must have politics coming into it, let's have the political argument fairly sifted.

SNOW FALL AT NEENAH

NEENAH, Wis., July 25.—Snow flurries lasting several minutes made Neenah shiver following a fall in the

JUST LIFE.

COON VALLEY LAURETTE.
The following touching sentiment is published in the Coon Valley News:

Common Sense.

The word meaning common sense... Is worth a thousand pence.
It is the word of knowledge,
Used in every little college.

So if this thing should be omitted,
Our brains would be outwitted.
And after such a studious life,
We wouldn't even get a wife.

—Carl Neprud, Jr.

A "TIGHTWAD."

There is a young man in La Crosse whose eyes are the color of moss. They say he is tight. For he boozes all night. On the best kind of "stuff" without cost.

The Coon Valley News suggests that the La Crosse & Southeastern be called the "Cannon Ball Route." Perhaps this is on Pete's account.

It is said every man has a heart if you know where to look for it. This is probably true, except in cases where a man is following dirty methods of gaining wealth and place.

It is reported there was a large sale of headache dope at local drug stores yesterday. Several merchants had been discussing the benefits and merits of the carnival.

Beware of Over-ripe Hen Fruit

Beware of the new-laid egg, and don't make a cake without "trying" the main ingredients before you break shells.

Chickens without a mother, or even an adopted mother, such as the mechanical incubator and brooder, appeared in the egg cases of several commission men during the past week and it is said that if the hot weather continues many cases will arrive at the age when they must hatch.

Commission men declare that the best eggs on the market are those which have been kept in cold storage since March and April, and that country eggs brought in within the last week or ten days are apt to be far advanced in the process of hatching.

As a result the cold storage houses have been opened and the market is flooded with eggs stored from three to fifteen months ago. The eggs have no signs of life in them, for the temperature in the cold storage houses has been so low that it has made the eggs unhatchable.

These cold storage eggs can be told in a moment after the shell is broken. If the white sticks to the shell one has an egg good enough in a way, but which was ripe three to fifteen months ago.

The reason is a simple one. It is said by commission men that more eggs were stored this year than ever before and this hot weather is the right time to work them off, when many country eggs have seen too much heat to be free from the odor of fried chicken.

Eggs like mother used to serve will be a thing of the past during July, August and a part of September, say the commission men. The large storage of eggs indicates that the market will be flooded for weeks with the old fruit.

If any fresh eggs appear on the market and stand the test they are stored as they will not show signs of age as quickly as the old ones. Only those laid in April or in March will be sold for the next few weeks.

Just now a billion cases of eggs are in storage in the big dairy and produce concerns of the country. This is more than twice the ordinary amount.

THE SPECTATOR.

Alderman Keller says he is the most worried papa in the city as father of the public bath, but with true parental regard he refuses to desert his charge. There is scarcely an hour during the day when some one does not hunt up the alderman from the First to consult with him regarding the bath. Members of the board of public works, brother aldermen, employees of the bath, people who have complaints to make, people with ideas for improving the institution, and all sorts of people on various other errands in connection with the place, constantly besiege Mr. Keller's job printing office on Pearl street. It's a sort of continuous vaudeville, some of the acts being of a highly dramatic character but the majority appearing in a humorous light to the good natured alderman from the First. If half the ideas planned for the improvement of the bath and told to Mr. Keller, were carried out, the institution would cost more to maintain than the wagon bridge, and La Crosse would have a free public bath considerably more elaborate than anything this side of Long Branch or Brighton Beach. Some citizens seem to think that Alderman Keller ought to be able to regulate the flow and depth of water in the river during the swimming period, have an ideal shelving sand beach reaching half way across the river, stop the current and do other impossible things with the few hundred dollars which the council appropriated only after much solicitation. It's our candid opinion that La Crosse bathers ought to feel pretty grateful for what they've got in the way of a swimming pool. It's as good and as safe as anything along the river from St. Louis to St. Paul.

Few people realize the true merit of Company M's record breaking performance on the range at Camp Douglas Sunday morning, when at volley firing the company made a total of 484 hits. To accomplish this one half of the shots that were fired by the company, at 1000 yards range, had to strike life sized figures of men which were arranged three deep, in rows one above the other, on the bluff side. This under the most favorable conditions would be a remarkable exhibition, but take into account the fact that a thirty-mile-an-hour breeze was blowing across the range, and one can begin to realize what Company M accomplished when it made a score of 484. This score breaks all former records of the Wisconsin military reservation and may stand for years.

Green Lake May Take Golf Meet.

As an aftermath of the state golf tournament, it has developed that the 1906 tournament may not go to Janesville as voted at the annual meeting Saturday night. The directors of the association may decide to transfer the meeting to the course of the Tuscumbia Golf club, Green Lake, which is chiefly kept up by the wealthy Chicago and St. Louis residents who spend their summers at cottages on that lake.

The Janesville invitation was extended, it is said, conditionally upon the action of the Green Lake club members, who have expressed a wish for the meet. Janesville was the first city to entertain the state association, and if Green Lake wishes the contest, Janesville will probably decide to withdraw its claim for the 1906 gathering and bend its efforts to the securing of a good crowd at the Green Lake meeting.

Bumper Crop is Forecasted by Northwestern

The crop reports from along the line of the Northwestern road in Minnesota and South Dakota, contain the welcome news that up to Saturday there had been absolutely no damage from rust, although wild reports had been in circulation for several days. A summary of the Northwestern reports follows:

There are indications of a little rust but no more than in past many years. It is not general, but is found in few localities. It is a smooth dark spot on the shoot, apparently dead. Not in a single instance is there reported any live action rust or any discoloration or perforation on stalk. When the shoot is stripped from stalk the latter was always clear, smooth and healthy. Very unfavorable weather may develop destructive rust but there is positively no injury from rust at this time and one week more will mature all wheat beyond danger except in the Sioux Valley.

WELL KNOWN RAILROAD MAN IS PROMOTED

A report has been received in La Crosse to the effect that F. H. Hammill of Clinton, Iowa, has been promoted from the position of trainmaster to the position of assistant superintendent of the Madison division of the North-Western road with headquarters at Baraboo, Wis.

In speaking of the promotion of Mr. Hammill, the Clinton, Iowa, Herald says:

A well merited promotion has come to former Trainmaster F. H. Hammill of Clinton of the Iowa division of the Chicago & North-Western railway. Mr. Hammill has been promoted to be assistant superintendent of the North-Western at Baraboo, Wis., taking the place of S. H. Brown, also formerly of this city and who with his wife has many friends here.

S. H. Brown has been advanced from the position of assistant superintendent at Baraboo to superintendent of the northern Iowa division of the North-Western.

A. F. Reiner, formerly trainmaster at Baraboo, has been promoted to take Mr. Hammill's place and will be located here in charge of this branch of the Iowa division of the North-Western. Mr. Reiner's position at Baraboo is given to Trainmaster Leyden.

Mr. Hammill has been in Clinton a little more than a year coming here directly from Boone, where he had worked his way from the ranks into that of under officials of the road with all of the men on the road and they are pleased at the recognition of his services. Mr. Reiner comes to the city from Baraboo and will bring his family here also. His work on the Iowa division began this week.

Mrs. Harry Palmer has returned from a visit with friends in Milwaukee.

FIVE THOUSAND TONS OF WILD HAY LOST THIS YEAR

There is undoubtedly five thousand tons of wild hay this year in the vicinity of La Crosse that will not be cut owing to the high stage of water in the river during the entire season. There is one possible chance that a few tons will be cut late in September or in October providing the water goes down to a stage of four or five feet within a couple of weeks and remains there the remainder of the season.

It is estimated today by a well known hay dealer of this vicinity that fully this number of tons of hay which would be brought to the La Crosse hay market, has been spoiled this year by the water. This will have an effect on the price of the hay and will undoubtedly make it higher than it has been for several winters in this city.

There are many men in the vicinity of La Crosse who each year make a business of cutting the wild hay on the bottoms and islands of the Mississippi river where it grows in abundance but so far this year not a ton of it has been cut and perhaps there will be only a few tons cut the entire season. Wild hay usually yields very good, growing high and very thick on the ground. A great many of the horses and cattle like it better than the tame hay but there are some that will not eat it at all.

TO TRY MEN WHO SOUGHT LIFE

The two unionists who are charged with assaulting William Slater with a jackknife will be arraigned in the county court the latter part of this week.

Slater seems to be improving at the St. Francis hospital but some of the cuts inflicted upon his breast are of such a serious nature that the outcome is yet in doubt, and the police have not decided as yet upon what charge to arraign the two men under arrest. Indications at this time are that it will be assault with intent to do great bodily harm, at least, or a more serious charge.

Was Aged Man Kidnapped?

RACINE, Wis., July 25.—The police force has been requested to locate Henry Miller, a retired merchant of Burlington, 71 years old. Mystery surrounds his disappearance. A man visited Burlington representing himself as George N. Pratt, cashier of the First National bank of Racine, and asked Mr. Miller to show him land. Mr. Miller accompanied the stranger to Racine.

A son of Mr. Miller came here today from Fox Lake to investigate, as Mr. Pratt had not been in Burlington and did not see Mr. Miller. Mr. Miller was last seen at the Milwaukee depot on the evening of July 20.

Conjecture is rife as to the old man's fate. As he carried little money it is not believed that he has been robbed and murdered, but it is thought possible he may be detained for some reason.

Council Considers Two Measures Tonight

An ordinance empowering the Wisconsin Light & Power company to lay wires underground in the brick paved district will be presented at the council meeting tonight for its first and second readings. The report of the committee on streets and alleys favoring allowing the company to tear up the brick pavement to put its wires underground was adopted at the last meeting of the council and the adoption of the ordinance is the next step in the proceedings. The ordinance will not be discussed tonight.

Another important matter scheduled to be acted upon tonight is the application of the Milwaukee railroad company for permission to erect stock yards and a feeding station for cattle en route to Chicago, in the eastern part of the north side. No opposition to this request is anticipated.

BOWLING ASSOCIATION TO REORGANIZE ON EXCURSION

La Crosse Association Will Enjoy Outing on Hudson, August 1--Officers May be Re-elected

It is probable that the La Crosse Bowling association will be reorganized, new officers elected and arrangements for next season's tournament completed on an excursion to be given by the association Tuesday, August 1st. The steamer City of Hudson and barge has been chartered by the association and members and their friends have been invited to attend. The boat will go down river to some secluded spot where dinner will be served by a caterer who will be taken with them. The day will be spent with various amusements and it is expected arrangements for the opening of the season September 1st will then be made.

The excursion is not a public affair but is for the bowlers and those who receive invitations.

C. H. Hunt, an officer in the association said today that it is probable that arrangements will be made this season to more evenly divide the teams so that the result will not be a foregone conclusion as it was last year. This will tend to keep up interest throughout the year, as rivalry for first place will be taken.

NATURAL CONDITIONS HAVE REDUCED POPULATION OF HOUSTON COUNTY.

The decrease in population in Houston and other Southern Minnesota counties during the past five years, shown by the census returns thus far, is accounted for by Supt. G. H. Wright of the Minnesota state census bureau as the result of changing conditions, and not through the fact that this section is not as prosperous as it was in former years. Census returns from counties in the northern part of Iowa show a similar condition.

"There is only an imaginary line dividing Iowa from Minnesota, and census returns from the northern portion of our neighboring state show the same decline in population as in the southern counties in Minnesota," said Mr. Wright. "Those sections of the two states were settled earlier than other sections, and they have endured the same experiences that all older settlements suffer."

"Land in the southern part of the state has reached a high price, and farmers are not slow to take advantage of that. They sell their holdings at big prices and purchase land in the northern part of the state, North Dakota or Canada, where land is cheaper. Then some people have the pioneering habit. I have known some who have struck out three times for the wilderness."

"Then take the grown-up children. The daughters marry and move away with their husbands. The sons go to the sections of the state where they can purchase cheaper land. Sometimes the father, who has become prosperous, buys land for his son in the northern part of the state, say, and starts him up that way."

"We believe also that there was some padding done in the southern counties when the census was taken five years ago."

The afternoon excursion given by the Press club on the steamer Columbia next Saturday will leave the levee at 2:30; the evening excursion will leave the levee at 8 o'clock, returning at midnight.

CHEERS FOR FIGHTING THIRD AT CAMP DOUGLAS

No Regiment Can Compare With that Now in Camp--The Local Militia Drilled Today

(Tribune Special Dispatch.)

CAMP DOUGLAS, July 25.—Fine weather, fine shooting, fine drills, tells the story of the work of the Third regiment and Tenth battalion in camp today. This Third regiment in the four days it has been in camp has come to be the despair of the newspaper correspondents. It works so hard and so smoothly that it makes no news.

The Third battalion of the Third regiment and the Tenth separate battalion used the range yesterday, while the First battalion and the remnants of the decimated Second drilled. The Second is decimated because it has so many men and officers on the rifle class or on special detail that it is reduced to its major and a handful of privates.

Probably for the first time in the history of the Wisconsin National Guard, the Third regiment is today in camp with absolutely its maximum strength of men. This includes 811 enlisted men, fifty-one officers of the field and staff, the band and eighteen members of the medical staff.

Thursday Will Be Veterans' Day. Thursday will be "old veterans' day" as well as governor's day at the encampment. The members of the old Tenth Wisconsin volunteers of civil war fame will visit the camp, coming here from their reunion at New Lisbon. They will be received with honors due the survivors of the Wisconsin troops that went from the recruiting office to their baptism of fire at Perryville and acquitted themselves like men, thereby saving the union position in that critical fight.

Daughter of the Regiment. Among the visitors in the camp is Mrs. Seth Burroughs of Sparta, daughter of the late M. T. Moore, for many years commander of the Third regiment, who was on the firing line with his men in the Spanish-American war. In the old days, back in the eighties, when the military camp was not so formal as it is at the present time, Vera Moore, then a little tot, appeared at the annual encampment decked out in full regimentals. When the day arrived for the return of the soldiers to their homes the "boys" circled around the colonel's tent, making the welkin ring with their cheers. One bronzed-faced trooper shouted: "Three cheers for Vera Moore, daughter of the regiment!"

The response was given with a will, and from that day to the present Col. Moore's little daughter, now a woman grown, has been regarded as the daughter of the Fighting Third.

Col. James Frear, of the governor's staff, and a leader of the republican side of the senate, accompanied by his family, is in camp for the week. Col. Frear appears in the full regalia of a soldier and seems to enjoy life on the tented field notwithstanding the fact that weatherbeaten men were shivering in the cold yesterday.

Visitors in Camp.

Other visitors are Mrs. R. A. Richards of Sparta, wife of Maj. Richards of the First battalion, Miss Lulu Hommel of Neillsville, daughter of Maj. John Hommel; Mrs. Percy Atkinson of Eau Claire; Miss Fannie Ginty of Chippewa Falls; Miss Sue Wells of Tomah; Miss Carrie Jones of Tomah; Mrs. F. G. Dana of La Crosse; Mrs. William Becker and family.

General King is a familiar figure all over the reservation. He is a tireless worker, and he and his notebook are almost omnipresent. The men regard him with mingled pride and affection, and his lectures at the pavilion are warmly applauded.

Today the rifle class began competition for places on the regimental team. High scores yesterday were as follows:

Third battalion, twelve high at fixed distance out of possible 200:

Sergeant Comer, Co. D 132
Artificer Neowlands, Co. D 127

Co. C—Volleys, 98; at will, 988.
Total, 196.

Co. D—Volleys, 134; at will, 141.
Total, 275.

The rifle class developed by the battalion firing is large, consisting of 258 men from the various battalions as follows: First battalion, 106; Second, 45; Third, 62; Tenth, 41; Third regiment staff, 4. This class begins firing today.

FIREMAN ON RAFT BOAT DIES OF HEAT.

During the recent excessive heat John Finn, a fireman on the raft boat Lizzie Gardner, died suddenly while the boat was towing a raft of lumber between Maiden Rock and Lake City. The deceased was fifty years of age, and whether his death was caused by heat prostration or heart trouble is not known.
